Kindly accept our compliments on making such a persuasive presentation to our Jury and adding to a mutual learning pool of best practices. While jury ratings have come in, it is time now to solicit popular votes for your nomination. This is important for the following reasons:

Making your department/ organisation and its wider ecosystem a part of the evaluation exercise.

Creating a buzz around your good work, informing your colleagues and peers about what has been done and making them feel proud of the achievements.

Benchmarking your popularity against peers from other organisations.

The Popular vote carries a 15% weightage (upto 1.5 marks). This is added to the jury score to arrive at the semi-final stage of the SKOCH Award. This ensures the SKOCH-Order-of-Merit certificate and also qualifies you to compete for the top national honour by soliciting the expert vote from delegates during the conference.

Please follow the below mentioned steps for submission of vote:

Step 1:  Go to SKOCH Exhibition (https://exhibition.skoch.in) and click on 'Beacons of Hope' in the Menu bar.

Step 2: Look for your Project and Organisation name in the list. If you can't find your project link on the first page, go to the next page(s).

Step 3: Go through the page of your project and follow the instructions properly.

Step 4: At the bottom of the page, you will find the voting button. Click that to go to the voting form

Step 5: Put all necessary information there and cast your vote.

In order to improve your chances to win SKOCH Order-of-Merit, you may like to share the link with your stakeholders. You are also urged to host the above link on your website and encourage people in your ecosystem to visit, learn, understand, support and Vote for you.

The voting lines are now open and it will close at 19:00 hrs on Friday 20th March 2026

Thanking you,
Yours sincerely,
Mr Deepak Dalal
